Damage out Policy

In order to better manage our Brand equity and value, and to lessen the burden of additional freight and handling costs to our supplier base, we are discontinuing our return to vendor policy for all garments that fail inspection at our Global Distribution Centers, and are deemed unshippable to our customers. Effective immediately, Vince will manage the destruction of garments here in Los Angeles or at our International Distribution Centers. Upon request, we will send samples back to factories for review. A certificate and photo of the destruction can also be made available upon request.

Thank you.
